LAKE COUNTY LEADS AT TESTING PLANT

Frank Fowler, of Lake Villa, sent three cows and A. Lindskog, of Gurnee, sent one to the testing plant at Dixon recently. This makes sixteen cows from Lake county which is about twice as many as any other county has at the plant.

The men who have cows there are Lloyd Ritzenthaler, Prairie View, two; Albert J. Stahl, Prairie View, one; E. F. Clark, Lake Villa, one; G. R. White, Antioch, one; H. K. Vose, Gurnee, one; Earl Kane, Area, one; M. H. Peterson, Libertyville, one; Rouse Bros., Area, two; Clement Bros., Area, two; A. Lindskog, Gurnee, one, and Frank Fowler, Lake Villa, three. Mr. Fowler is the only man having as many as three cows in the plant.

Not all of these cows have freshened yet but those that have are giving a good account of themselves.

O. F. C. Chicago Pictette made 27.5 pounds of butter in seven days and in sixty days has given 244 pounds of butter and 5077 pounds of milk.

Johanna Belle Spofford Korndyke made 29.05 butter in seven days. Both these cows belong to Lloyd Ritzenthaler.

Princess Vevie Colantha, a junior four year old, owned by H. K. Vose made 29.02 pounds of butter and 550 pounds milk in seven days.

A junior two owned by M. H. Peterson made 19.2 pounds butter in seven days.

Of the seven cows at the plant that have made better than 25 pounds in seven days, two of them came from Lake county.

CHICAGO MILK MARKET.

ING COMMITTEE

A committee of nine representing the producers of the Chicago milk district, is now at work to vitalize the marketing of milk in the territory.

C. V. Gregory, of Wheaton, is chairman of the committee.

Three sub-committees have been appointed. One, to study contracts, will practically be in continuous session until it presents a plan for a better contract for producers. The members of this committee are J. T. Williams, Sterling, Ill.; John G. Gilly, Barrington, Ill.; Perry Crane, Indianapolis, Ind.

Another committee to study organization was appointed consisting of H. C. Hemingway, Janesville, Wis.; E. B. Heaton, Chicago, American Farm Bureau Federation, and A. C. Stoxen, Bassett, Wis.

A committee on good will including C. Larsen, Wheaton, of the Illinois Agricultural association, John K. Rathbun, Lombard, Ill., and T. R. Keene, Wheeler, Ind., was also named.

PAGEANT DIRECTOR FOR DEKALB APPROVED

The definite plan of a great pageant to illustrate the progress and ideals of the farm bureau movement as the feature of the Farm Bureau Decennial celebration at DeKalb, June 30, was decided upon by the general committee for the celebration which met in the I. A. A. offices last week.

It was decided to employ Miss Dina Lampkin, who is at present staging a mammoth pageant of 3,000 people at Jacksonville, Fla., to take charge of the farm bureau pageant. Miss Lampkin is particularly fitted for the position, being a native of Illinois and a graduate of the state university, and recognized as one of the foremost pageant directors of the country.

Willing to Come Although offered high salaries to take up the work of directing commercial pageants, she has refused them and is with Community Service, Inc., of New York, an organization for the betterment of the community.

Miss Lampkin was consulted at Jacksonville by J. D. Billaborrow, chairman of the pageant committee and expressed her willingness to take up the proposition. Mr. Billaborrow was empowered by the general committee to take steps toward securing her for the DeKalb celebration.

Forward! Farm Bureau The tentative outline of the Farm Bureau pageant is under the name "Forward! Farm Bureau."

A meeting of the publicity and pageant committees was held on the same day as the general committee meeting.

It was decided by the publicity committee, and the report approved by the general committee, to use all existing mediums of publicity and, in addition, to distribute the organization campaign posters bearing the wording: "Decennial Celebration, DeKalb, Ill., June 30, 1922."

The use of pole cards, auto stickers and poster stamps to line up with the organization campaign was also approved.

Pig Pasture

In central Illinois, alfalfa, clover and rape excel all other forage crops for pigs. Some sections of the state may use other crops to better advantage because these crops are not adapted to all soils. However, in all sections hog raisers can afford to arrange a rotation of forage crops which will furnish succulent growing pasture from spring till late fall. Such a plan can utilize lots around buildings and rough ground which would otherwise be wasted. The distribution of manure is facilitated, and disease and parasite losses are reduced to the minimum. Grain, labor and nitrogenous supplements are saved, and most important of all, growth and thrift are promoted by the intelligent use of forage crops.

Farmers should endeavor to have succulent forage available for hog pasture when the blue grass begins to dry up in the early summer. If clover and alfalfa are not available, rape fills the place excellently where it can be grown successfully. Sown two or three weeks before corn planting time, rape should have sufficient growth by the middle of June to carry 10 to 20 pigs per acre for the rest of the summer. By the time rape is gone, the fall rains will have rejuvenated the blue grass and the stubble fields, which will carry the hogs until fall sown rye is available. A well planted rotation of forage crops is both profitable and practical for the hog man.—R. J. Laible, Swine Division of U. of I.

Treating Potatoes for Scab Potatoes scab is usually carried over from one year to the next by means of infected seed. It may also be in the soil. It is a good plan to change the location of the potato patch occasionally and avoid loss through infected soil.

A heavy application of coarse manure tends to induce scab and some experiments indicate that applications of lime may also encourage the development of this disease.

The treatment for seed is as follows: Make a solution of formaldehyde and water using one pound (or pint) of formaldehyde to thirty gallons of water. Soak the potatoes for two hours in this solution. Preferably plant at once after treatment. If this cannot be done store them in bags or a bin after disinfecting the container with the formaldehyde solution. This will prevent re-infecting the seed. Potatoes should be cut for planting after being treated.

Farm Movies at Libertyville

Five of the best reels on hog cholera and cattle disease will be shown at the Liberty theatre, Libertyville on Monday night, May 8, at 8 p. m.

A system of controlling the round worm, which is causing heavy losses among young pigs, will be shown in every detail so any hog raiser can follow out the plan on his farm. Repeated trials of this system have proven its value so it is past the experimental stage.

The system is simple and effective. Hog cholera control will also be pictured on the screen.

The film on cattle diseases is entitled "Out of the Shadows" and shows the result of bovine tuberculosis with method of prevention and control.

Two speakers are also expected, both to talk on disease prevention.

Dr. I. M. Hoebecker, state veterinarian in charge of cholera and other swine disease in the northern part of the state, will talk on disease prevention among hogs.

H. B. Davison, from the Chicago Livestock Exchange, is expected to be present and speak on tuberculosis among dairy cattle and methods of control.

The pictures offer exceedingly valuable suggestions to swine breeders and dairymen.

The program is being arranged by the Lake County Farm Bureau. No admission will be charged.

GOOD YEAR

Not the Man for the Job.
Thomas Robertson, an official of the Eagles club, recently sent notices to several lodge members appointing them members of a committee to visit the sick. The next day one of those thus notified halted Robertson on the street. "I'm chosen for the sick committee?" he asked.
"Yes—why not?"
"Well, the member replied, "I don't mind serving, but my business—"
"Can't you serve after business hours?" Robertson interrupted. "By the way, what's your business?"
"I'm an undertaker."
"Excused," said Robertson.—Kansas City Star.

RUSS ACCEPT ALLIES' TERMS

Soviet Government Will Unconditionally Recognize All Nation's War Debts.

BELGIUM HOLDS UP PACT

Russian Delegates Declare Their Country Wants Peace With Whole World—Lloyd George Is Again Winner in Tact.

Genoa, May 3.—The Russians have accepted all the terms imposed on her by the allies.

This became known following publication of the allied note which demanded that Russia must unconditionally recognize its war debts.

The French article requiring the supreme council's consent to Russian court decisions in foreign cases was dropped.

The amendment offered by Vice Premier Barthou regarding a definition of private property was approved by the conference, Belgium alone objecting.

The Russians are fast making separate peace. They said so in a letter to the French, following a tense meeting of the leaders of the soviet delegation.

The Russian note said that the Rapallo treaty was but one of a series they are making, and offered earnestly to make peace with France.

The Russians said that, although there was some hostility toward France at home, that this feeling undoubtedly would be overcome.

"We want peace with the whole world and we are getting it," was the keynote of the document sent to Barthou.

Lloyd George is quoted as telling Barthou that the British will deal with the Russian problem if the conference does not.

The Russian delegation has been the busiest of the conference and it will not hold the conference, no matter what happens. Their aim now, in addition to getting a loan, is for more agreements for separate peace.

The allies are trying hard to agree on peace among themselves, and they may succeed. Belgium is the chief obstacle.

Lloyd George and Barthou answered sharply the Belgian plan that a stiffer definition be given to property rights.

Lloyd George said that the British business men were satisfied and that was enough for him, remarking that the Belgian expert who had consented to the definition of property rights at the Cannes conference was a banker as well as a lawyer.

Lloyd George won his point, but even so the clauses agreed on were unsatisfactory to the Russians, who are treating them as a mere basis for negotiation.

The final touches on the property clauses are being perfected and will be presented to the Russians. After this is done, Barthou will go to Paris and explain to officials there the dangers of a bolt from the conference and its consequences.

GERMANS SHOOT U. S. OFFICER

Army Captain Wounded in May Day Riot by Manifestants at Mayence.

Mayence, May 3.—During a May day demonstration here a captain of the American army was wounded by the manifestants.

A column of May demonstrators was marching through the Rheinstrasse when, through a mistake in steering, the American captain's automobile ran into the procession. The machine was stopped immediately, but it was at once surrounded and attacked by a shrieking, furious crowd, which began to mount the car. The captain, believing his life to be in danger, drew his revolver. One of the men in the crowd tried to disarm him, but the revolver was discharged and the officer sank back, wounded in the shoulder. The chauffeur tried to aid the captain, but the crowd turned on him, covering him with blows. French gendarmes extricated the American car and made several arrests.

CROPS AND PROFIT

PROBLEMS JUST NOW PRESSING ON AGRICULTURISTS

Farmer on Low-Priced, Fertile Lands, Still to Be Had, Is in Best Possible Position.

The economic problems connected with the advantageous marketing of farm crops and the finances of the movement of those crops are pressing upon agriculture most severely. They will be solved, however, and will be solved, is being worked out it that solution is being worked out it is simply good sense on the farmer's part to make his efforts toward production tell to the very maximum, as best carrying him through the period of depression and hard times and placing him in the best position to take the greatest possible advantage of the better times to come. We may repeat that the cheapest farm crop, whether from fields or from live stock, is almost invariably the largest crop which can be obtained. Or in other words, the greater the crop, the greater the net profit. To attain such crops and to place himself in the advantageous position referred to above, the farmer must study, and must apply the results of his study to such problems as soil fertility, its conservation and increase; soil moisture, its control; cultural methods, suitable and productive varieties, etc., etc.

The question is how can you best accomplish and secure these things? Can they be done on high-priced lands, by paying high rents, with the prices you get for your produce no greater than may be had from that grower and raised on much cheaper lands, whose production is fully as great as that of the high-priced lands? The answer is unquestionably in favor of the low-priced lands, when they are selected because of their soil fertility and the other requirements necessary.

It is not the purpose here to point out merely that the lands of Western Canada would prove a splendid and ready solution, but to emphasize the fact that in order to overcome your present difficulty, to remove some of the burden that you are laboring under, you must secure some line of cheaper operation, whether it be removal to other parts in your own country where such opportunity may offer, or take advantage of that which Western Canada affords.

For information regarding these advantages apply to any Canadian government agent.—Advertisement.

FROST KEEPS GRIP ON GOLD

Placers in Alaska That Are Only Thawed to a Depth of About Three Feet in Summer.

Certain Alaska gold placers lie in ground that is permanently frozen, only the surface being thawed to a depth of two or three feet in the heart of summer. In this respect they resemble the gold-bearing gravels of Siberia, and the methods of working are similar. Summer is the best time to prospect for new leads, but excavation of the gravel from shafts and tunnels can be well carried on in winter. The ground at the end of a shaft is softened by a fire of wood and then attacked with the pick. But, instead of breaking under the blows, it mats together, and this tendency renders gunpowder and dynamite comparatively ineffective. In dealing with the frozen mass, with its less powerful incentive than the gleam of gold to spur on his human antagonist, the prospector would doubtless win an easy victory in so desperate a conflict.

Even a fat man may be successful at dodging an issue.

A sermon that is long drawn out is apt to be narrow.

WRIGLEY'S P-K

This new sugar-coated gum delights young and old.

It "melts in your mouth" and the gum in the center remains to aid digestion, brighten teeth and soothe mouth and throat.

There are the other WRIGLEY friends to choose from, too:

ONLY KIND THAT PATTY KNEW

Unfortunate That Grandma's Nickname Came Into Her Head at Precisely That Moment.

Patty's grandmother was one of those modern, wideawake citizens who take an active part in everything civic. She was chairman of her suffrage district and attended women's conventions throughout the country.

Her family called her "Our Politician" to tease her and three-year-old Patty would listen round-eyed and wonder why grandmother was so cross with them.

One day grandmother was entertaining a group of her friends by exhibiting Patty.

"Tell about Red Riding Hood," begged grandmother innocently.

"Patty began, 'Little Red Riding Hood'—went into the wood with a basket—to visit her grandmother, who was sick."

"Who?"—Grandmother waited hopefully.

"Who was a politician?" finished Patty, with a sudden inspiration.—Chicago Journal.

A Defect.

TOURIST SEEKS MAIN STREET

First Inquiry Made by Man From Middle West on His Arrival at Washington.

Nobody can tell what a traveler is going to ask when he gets off the train at Union station.

Ask the street car superintendents who load 'em on winter and summer. Ask the men who run the sightseeing busses. Make inquiry of taxicab drivers.

They will tell you that it is an ordinary happening to have a stranger ask if "that big building with the dome is the White House."

One of those funny spring days last week a traveler from the Middle West came marching forth from the station portals to bask in the infrequent sunshine which that moment was pouring down upon Washington.

There was no doubt about him being from the Middle West. It was written all over his sturdy frame, tanned face and hospitable manner. He felt at home. He had no idea that anybody might rebut his cordiality.

"Good morning," he said.

"How are you?" I replied.

"Where is Main street?" he asked.—Washington Star.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over.

Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children.

There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in this) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

Raise 'em The FUL-O-PEP Way

The Ful-O-Pep Way of Feeding chicks has changed the old expensive "grain feeding way" and has proven to poultry raisers that the old method of grain feeding is all wrong. The Ful-O-Pep Way of feeding Gives You 1 Pound of Gain at Cost of 2 Pounds of Feed. Instead of only 1 pound of gain to each 4 pounds of feed, which is the basis of figuring cost of production arrived at by experiment stations covering several years experiments with grain feeding. Why continue to feed this old expensive way when The Ful-O-Pep Way will give you the same gains with only half the feed?

FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH

Costs Less Per Pound of Gain Made Than Any Other Feed

The Ful-O-Pep Way consists of feeding Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash from the very start—continuously keeping it before your birds all the time. Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash, because of the high feeding value of its Oatmeal, fish and bone contents goes twice as far as grain feeds—every ounce is digested by chicks' delicate digestive organs—there is no waste and when compared with results cost only half as much in pounds of feed consumed for gains in pounds of meat produced. Furthermore, your losses from bowel and digestive troubles of meat produced, feeding hard indigestible grains, will be very much less and that arise from feeding hard indigestible grains. Give The Ful-O-Pep Way your flock will be of even growth and development. Give The Ful-O-Pep Way a trial this season—it will reduce your feed costs and materially increase your profits.
